Ambassador Committee

The Ambassador Committee, as always, keeps busy, busy, busy. There have been numerous Ribbon Cutting Ceremonies and hosted Business After Hours. Here are some highlights:

Cathe Smith, owner of The Accidental Tourist cutting the Ribbon during her Grand Opening celebration. March 26, 2010

The spread provided by Steve Keck, Oregon Coast Catering during the Business After Hours hosted by The Ashley Inn & Suites. April 15, 2010.

The Ambassador Committee meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7:45am and various locations. The current location is as the Historic Anchor Inn. If you are interested in connecting with other chamber member businesses and celebrate new businesses as well as showcasing other businesses—this is the committee for you. Contact either Susan Andrews or Julies McBee, co-chairs or the Lincoln City Chamber Office.

Linda's Last Lines

I recently celebrated my one year anniversary here at the Lincoln City Chamber of Commerce and the time has flown by with remarkable speed. I must admit the first few months flew by so quickly, and, with the fact that I was totally out of my element, that I vaguely remember anything at all.

In looking over the past year I am truly proud of the chamber and the direction it is taking, the partnerships it has made, and the growth it is experiencing.

We have been given a lot of support from you, our members, and your encouragement and suggestions are what drives this office.

What I like most about coming to work, every day, to the Lincoln City Chamber of Commerce, is the fact that I can bring ideas and random thoughts to the table, and believe me I have a ton of them (ask Mike Holden), and they are heard. I also like working in an environment, that I can honestly say, that the intent and goal is to support and provide relevant services to our members. That's it. No hidden agenda! And, I REALLY like that!

We are fast approaching the beginning of a new fiscal year, with some new board members, a new website, and some new ideas and I am excited to move into my second year at the Lincoln City Chamber of Commerce.
